

Selectmen contest Appeal Board

The Wilmington Board of Appeals approved, last Friday, the appeal of the Tambone Corporation of Reading, for a permit to erect low and moderate income housing, down by the Ipswich River.

For three non-lawyers, working without legal advisors, the appeal board decision is extremely well written. It permits the construction of 276 units of housing, under the provisions of Chapter 744, Acts of 1969, the so-called Snob Zoning Law. There are restrictions in how the buildings may be erected and how the sewer lines shall be constructed, all of which are to be enforced by the appeal board of its agent.

The many woes which were paraded before the appeal board on March 25 are dismissed with one paragraph, which notes that those statements which had no bearing on the subject, according to the law, are not discussed.

The Wilmington selectmen had already posted a notice for a meeting on Saturday, and at 10 a.m. they met, with all members present, to consider and discuss the appeal board decision. In addition to the selectmen and town manager, the town counsel and Dick Duggan of the finance committee were present. Madelyn McKie, also of the fincom, came in for a few minutes discussion, toward the end of the meeting.

The board of selectmen decided unanimously to instruct the town counsel to contest the decision in Superior Court.

Five thousand dollars was transferred, by the finance committee, on April 15, and that money will be used to prosecute the case as the Wilmington Selectmen want it. Mr. Cohen, of Medford, hired last week as a special attorney, is to assist the town counsel in preparing the case.

The board of appeals, who will have to answer in court to the selectmen's case, has no attorney, and no money for an attorney. Under ordinary circumstances it could be expected that the board of appeals would be defended by the town counsel, but Mr. Altman already has instructions from the selectmen to present the case against the board of appeals.

The appeals board does have the right to go to the court and ask that an order be issued compelling the town to provide money for an attorney, and, if it wishes, that an attorney be named.

Like the hiring of outside counsel to assist the town counsel, this could be a matter of expense for Wilmington. If certain attorneys are named by the court to take the part of the Wilmington Board of Appeals the cost could be as high as $95 an hour.

The town counsel has, by law, twenty days to file papers contesting the decision of the board of appeals.

Some of the points made by the board of appeals in its decision were (by numbered paragraphs)

4. While this board can well understand the objections to Chapter 774 of the Acts of 1969 on the grounds that the wrong public board has been required to exercise initial authority on the merits of a proposed project, and as recent experience in Hanover and Concord indicates, ultimate control rests with the Housing Appeals Committee, not with the local community. However, this objection cannot relieve the board of appeals from obeying what appears to be a legislative mandate, namely, to approve projects for low and moderate income families and persons where need therefore exists, despite local zoning restrictions, so long as the health and safety of the occupants and the residents of the town are adequately protected, reasonable site and building design in relation to the surroundings is maintained and open spaces preserved. We have decided to attempt to act positively in the light of the apparent purpose of the statute -

6. This board must obey the law. It does not have the authority by statute or otherwise to test the constitutionality of the law. I the town meeting will not make provision for low income housing, then the legislature has said it is to be done by means of the procedures established by Chapter 774. This legislation obviously flies in the face of the popular vote. So the number of people in town who are opposed is not directly relevant. This board cannot simply say no permit will be issued because more people are against than are for it.

7. Wilmington has no apartment zone provisions in its zoning

Blood Bank tops record

The Wilmington High School Senior Class established a new record for blood donors to the Bloodmobile in Wilmington, yesterday.

At 6pm there had been 204 donations, with 32 persons in line, waiting to donate. There was good hopes of topping the number of 250 donors.

High School Junior Chris Rounds is shown answering the questions from Mrs. Mason, Red Cross volunteer, in preparation for a donation.

Planning Board supports Board of Appeals decision

The Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday night on a split vote, voted to send a letter to the Wilmington Board of Appeals, indicating its support of the decision regarding low and moderate housing and saying "although we may not agree in every detail, we support them in their decision." The motion was by Arthur Harding, and was seconded by Lou Maglio.

Harding, in support of his motion said that he was "personally" not in favor of low and moderate income housing at the Woburn Street site, but that Wilmington is "ripe" for such housing because it has not seen fit to support low and moderate income housing, nor apartment housing.

Since 1969, he said, Wilmington has been aware of this. It has been subject of discussion both in the board of selectmen and in the planning board.

"The planning board is opposed to apartment housing. It did support PUD (planned development), but its proposal was so complicated that the voters rejected it. It could have been more reasonable."

"I think the planning board should work on apartment housing. It should adopt a type of plan in which, rather than units to the acre there would be a number of bedrooms to the acre - say 16."

Harding argued that if such an

Much wanted check passer

A Revere man who is on the wanted list in many police stations in Massachusetts was arrested by the Wilmington police at 4:17 a.m. last Friday. Complaints have been issued against the man in many communities for forgery, counterfeiting, uttering and larceny.

Sgt. Jay Palmer and Officer James Rooney noticed a car, weaving from side to side of Lowell Street. Patrolman Bobby Stewart joined the two men, and the car was stopped, near Route 93. The driver is reported as having been intoxicated, and not to have a license.

At the police station Sgt. Palmer found out that the driver was wanted in many cities and towns in Massachusetts. When the driver was taken to court, in the morning, the Boston Police were there waiting for him, with fourteen warrants, involving the passing of bad checks on Boston banks, for a total of about $100,000.

He was also wanted in Clinton, Chelsea, Hingham and Revere and other Massachusetts communities.

Board of Selectmen SUBSIDIZED HOUSING PROJECT ON WOBURN STREET

The Town Clerk received on May 2, 1975, the decision of the Wilmington Board of Appeals in regards to the application of Candlewood Village Associates to construct 276 units of low and moderate income housing on 28 acres of land on Woburn Street in a zoning district reserved by a vote of the people of Wilmington for the construction of single family homes.

The Board of Appeals has granted the applicant a comprehensive permit to construct the housing development subject to certain specific conditions.

The Town, through its elected officers, the Board of Selectmen, do not accept or agree with this decision and will therefore at once seek an appeal of the decision before judicial and legislative bodies and will take what ever other legal steps which may be required to halt the proposed multi-family subsidized housing development in this area. The objection is based upon the severe financial impact upon all local taxpayers and its effect upon the health, safety and general welfare of the inhabitants of the Town of Wilmington, as well as the prospective tenants of the apartment house complex known as Candlewood Village.

Any citizen who considers himself an aggrieved person and wishes to assist the Board of Selectmen, and would like to join the Board in opposition to the issuance of a comprehensive permit, are requested to so indicate in writing. A short note to the Town Hall, Middlesex Avenue, Wilmington, indicating his or her concern would be helpful if received within the next few days.

Have Water Commissioners resigned?

Have the members of the Board of Water & Sewer Commissioners resigned?

There are knowledgeable persons who say this is so. The Town Crier has been unable to absolutely confirm the news.

Neither the Town Clerk nor the Town Manager have received resignations as of yesterday afternoon. Vincent McLean, one of the commissioners, has announced that he did not want to serve another term. Neither Arnold Blake nor Robert Mullarky have been contacted for purposes of confirmation.

The Town Crier was not present at the April 24th meeting of the Water Commissioners. According to verbal reports it was somewhat stormy. The minutes of the meeting have this to relate:

1. TAMBONE DEVELOPMENT: Mr. Gillis felt that sewerage is a strong point in the case, and if the Board had turned them down on the sewer it would have helped to defeat the development. Mr. Blake explained that the Board considered the development from the viewpoint of water & sewer only, and is still of the opinion that Tambone's final proposal was a good compromise which would have been of value to the town, to the Lucci land, and to the hospital clinic. It would not have been reasonable or fair to require Tambone to put in the whole interceptor system, which is the outfall for the entire east end of town, costing several millions. In any case, it was the Board's understanding that they could legally put in the force main the whole distance, without obtaining approval from anyone.

Mr. Gillis asked if Town Counsel had been consulted on this point. Mr. Altman had not been consulted, but the Board agreed to do so. A letter was directed to the Town Counsel asking if, in his opinion, in the particular matter of the application of Tambone Corporation for the Candlewood Village apartment development, the Board of Water & Sewer Commissioners had the right to approve or deny sewer connection, i.e. if the Board categorically denied permission to extend a sewer in Woburn Street, would it mean there would be no sewer built.

2. ENGINEERING CONTRACTS: Mr. Gillis asked if the Board had been obtaining 5 proposals on all engineering contracts, as previously directed. It was explained that we attempted to obtain five proposals prior to undertaking the northeast improvements, but most firms recommended continuing with Whitman & Howard unless there was some reason to be dissatisfied with their work.

As there was not, Whitman & Howard is continuing with this job, and have been asked to plan for a large standpipe in the general area. Small jobs are routinely given to Whitman & Howard. Mr. Morris outlined sewer planning and the fact that federal funds are now becoming available, and emphasized that plans must be completed by Whitman & Howard, and kept up-to-date in order to qualify.

Mr. Gillis said he had no quarrel with this, realizing that plans for the sewer and the standpipe must continue.

3. ROBERT COREY LAND: Would like to be sure that Corey is not trespassing on adjoining Water Department land while engaged in his operations. Blake said he had walked the area without knowing exact bounds, and it does not appear he is trespassing, but he would like to have it checked further.

4. COOK AVENUE: Mr. Gillis again asked if there is no way water can be supplied to Cook Hill, such as over the ground. The Superintendent felt it would freeze or be destroyed by vandals. It was explained that we have called twice for betterments, but the abutments opposed in both cases due to the high cost. The only possible approach through Jewel Industrial Park seems to be out of the question at the moment as the development shows no signs of getting under way. Mr. Gillis asked the Town Manager to confer with Town

Counsel on some way to get water to these people, such as underwriting part of the project on the tax rate.

Regular business was resumed.

(The last word is that the remaining Water Commissioners are determined that they will not be the subject of dictation by any official, but that they intend to remain in office until June 30, in order that replacements may be named, and have an opportunity to 'learn the ropes'. Ed.

Health Van to be in Wilmington Wednesday

A Community Services van, available as a public service from the Carling Brewing Company of Natick, is to be outfitted with respiratory therapy from the Winchester Hospital, and will be parked, next Wednesday at the Wilmington Plaza for free lung capacity testing of Wilmington residents.

Winchester Hospital Community advisory council

Twenty two members of a proposed 40 member Winchester Hospital community advisory council held its first meeting on April 30 at the Hospital.

The purpose of the council is to provide an opportunity for discussion by the hospital administrator and representatives from the community served by the hospital, to create a continuing channel of communication with representatives of Winchester Hospital's service area.

Membership on the council includes representatives from each of the precincts in Winchester, Reading and Wilmington, and additional members as may be asked to serve, not to exceed a total of 40.

Reviewing the purpose of the council, hospital administrator Resse E. James explained, "Communication is our theme. We are looking for in-pat from those communities served by the hospital on ways we can better meet the area's health needs." "The trend today is for hospitals to move out of their traditional role and assume a new role... that of the hospital without walls... bringing the hospital into the community rather than having the community come to the hospital. This is now being done in many areas by the development of neighborhood clinics and by educational programs sponsored by the hospitals," James said.

In his discussion, James spoke of several major concerns facing the Winchester Hospital: cost containment, the problem of cash flow due to delays in payments from the state and federal government and from private insurers and the need to keep up with new specialized equipment being developed.

Attending from Wilmington were: Mrs. Loretta Cairn, James J. Durkee, F. Talbot Emery, Mrs.

Mildred Hillier, Mrs. Jean F. Howard, Mrs. Roberta A. London, Sterling C. Morris and Mrs. Esther L. Russell.

Bob Reid honored at Berwick

Robert M. Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Reid, of 12 Lang St., Wilmington was awarded a certificate of study during recent post-graduate commencement ceremonies at Berwick Academy.

A 1974 graduate of Wilmington High School, he completed an intensive academic program at Maine's oldest college preparatory school. He was a starting defensive tackle on Berwick's undefeated football team and received all-prep recognition.

He will enroll next fall at Fordham University.

Announcing MELBANK CASHLINE 24

Melrose Savings' new revolving credit plan that lets you have money-on-the-spot.

What is CASHLINE 24?

Melbank CASHLINE 24 is your own pre-approved line of credit that lets you write your own loan whenever and wherever you need one.

Why do I need CASHLINE 24?

There are times when everyone needs extra cash. With Melbank's CASHLINE 24 you have it. You're assured of buying power without the need of finding financing. You simply write your own loan like you'd write a check.

How do I get MELBANK'S CASHLINE 24?

Just stop in at your nearest Melrose Savings Bank Office and fill out a simple single CASHLINE 24 application. In a few days you'll be notified of the amount of your cash reserve.

Can I combine my N.O.W. Account with CASHLINE 24?

Yes. With Melbank's CASHLINE 24 your N.O.W. Account becomes a bounce-proof checking account. Any overdrafts on your N.O.W. Account can be automatically funded by your CASHLINE 24 to the amount of your approved credit. That means you can also write a loan through your N.O.W. Account.

How much does CASHLINE 24 cost?

Nothing. Melbank's CASHLINE 24 costs you nothing. You're charged low bank interest only on the amount of money borrowed on your CASHLINE 24.

What about the bookkeeping?

Melbank takes care of all the details. Each month you'll receive a detailed statement.

What if I have more questions about CASHLINE 24?

If you do, simply stop in or call. We'll answer them on the spot.

The guy in the tree was Dick Duggan

The front page of the Wilmington Town Crier, on April 17, had a drawing of the Wilmington Minutemen of 1775 marching to Concord. They were passing in front of the old William Butters home, second oldest in Wilmington, down on Chestnut Street.

A few curious persons, a couple of dozen or thereabouts, spotted a face, up in a tree near the Butters home. They weren't dreaming, they were told when they called the Town Crier office. There was a face, up in that tree.

That face was of Richard Duggan, of Adams Street,

Wilmington. Ann Torrente the artist, put that face in the picture, to tell Dick that he was going to be the Good Guy of 1975.

The Good Guy Award is made once a year to someone who is doing good for the Town of Wilmington and the people thereof. He cannot be a politician, or even someone who is running for office. He must be a Good Guy, some one who puts his heart and soul into such a practice.

Last year it was Marion Boylen, the gal who is always at every house fire in Wilmington, to make certain that there is shelter and food, etc. for the afflicted family. Marion deserved it.

Almost everyone in Wilmington knew that Dick Duggan was going to be the Good Guy of 1975 - except Dick. He thought there was to be a surprise party for Al McMullin, and he was told it was his duty to bring Al to the K of C Hall, without Al getting wise to what was going on.

Dick did a wonderful job, and so did Al. Al let himself be led around, by Dick, who was hiding the fact that Al was to be the surprised guest, and Al was letting Dick lead him around, because Al knew that Dick was to be the surprised guest.

They arrived at the K of C Hall, Al and Dick. Greatest of friends. Each taking care of the other.

Two hundred and ten guests were waiting. Dick led Al in. Al didn't seem to stumble that he was to be the guest of honor.

Finally, after 30 feet or so, Al and Dick walking side by side, a girl came up and threw her arms around Dick, and then soundly kissed him. That wasn't in the program. It was supposed to be Al.

Jim Hachey was the master of ceremonies. It was, in effect a This is Your Life. There were over a dozen persons to accuse, kid and otherwise tell Dick of his past, persons from North Reading and of course persons from Wilmington.

Headstart program begins June 30

Wilmington Public Schools will again conduct a summer Headstart Program for children who will be entering kindergarten or elementary school for the first time this fall.

Present Office of Economic Opportunity Guidelines require that children from economically disadvantaged families be given first priority for enrollment.

the program lasts for six weeks, from June 30 through August 8 with daily classes running from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. The children are transported to and from the center by bus.

Also provided on a daily basis is a breakfast type snack in the morning and a hot lunch before dismissal.

Questions should be directed to Richard DeRosas, headstart director at 658-3494 any school day. Deadline for applications is June 13.

Wilmington senior set

On May 1 a buffet luncheon was sponsored by the Council on Aging at the K of C Hall. One hundred and ten seniors attended. Following lunch they joined in a sing-along and danced.

Seniors are invited to the Woburn Street School for the grammar school children's version of "Fidler on the Roof" on June 3 at 9:30 a.m. and will be served a brunch following the presentation. Seniors should call Nina at the center, 657-7595 for transportation from the center to the school.

Dancing lessons, May 14 at the center from 1 to 4 p.m.; Whist and Pokeno, May 21 at the center from 1 to 4 p.m.; dancing lessons at the center May 28 from 1 to 4 p.m. For more information call Nina.

On June 4, the Council on Aging will sponsor a day at Fenway Park for a Red Sox game. The first 100 seniors who call for reservations will be eligible.

All seniors are urged to avail themselves of the services of the drop-in-center. Just drop in for a cup of tea or coffee, a cookie or too and conversation with old friends. Television, arts and crafts, games, a newsletter once a month and discounts to all seniors. The health nurse once a week on Tuesday from 1 to 4 p.m. will take blood pressures.

LETTER

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on the last two issues of the Town Crier.

Regarding your piece on the unknown rider. Most of it was untrue. The horse was never out of control, as the rider was very much in control. The horse never bolted at the sould of the church bells either. As a matter of fact, the Rev. Taylor of the Congregational Church had to lead the horse a bit to get him started. If the rider nearly ran over someone it was because the people ran out in front of him to get some pictures.

How did you get that picture of him you had on the front page? Also, the rider wasn't supposed to shout "the British are coming." He was supposed to dismount at the flagpole and speak to the leader of the minutemen. As there were no minutemen at the flagpole, the rider gave the people a wave and rode away, rather than chance someone getting hurt in the process of getting a "good picture."

Incidentally, the rider was Bob Kelley of Clark Street and the horse, Mickey belongs to Vern Randell of Salem Street.

Concerning your piece about Salem Street winning the Friendly Award. LaVern Randell lives on West Street and she does not own a

College information at Wilmington High

A panel of college admission officers is to be at Wilmington High School next Wednesday (May 14) evening to help acquaint parents and pupils with some of the options available, for continuing education beyond the high school level.

Arrangements were made for the panel by Dr. Harold Homefield, administrator of pupil personnel.

Persons who may have wondered about such phases as PCS, SAT, Early Decisions, Rolling Admissions, Candidates Reply Date, or what is really included in a High School Transcript will have an opportunity to learn, on May 14.

The discussions are for both parents and pupils.

Mrs. Constance Skahan of the High School Guidance Department has arranged for speakers representing business schools, two year community colleges, small private liberal arts colleges, large universities and four year state colleges or universities.

Perhaps parents and students know already that further education is definite but question where they want to go and where can they

Wildcats 5-1

Stumble vs. Andover

Last Monday Coach Kelley's tracksters upped their seasonal record to 4 - 0 with a convincing 97 - 48 win over Billerica and moved to 5-0 by downing a surprisingly well-rounded Dracut squad 82 - 53.

Wildcat Captain Dana Roueche led the troops with another triple win (long jump, triple jump, 220) while Rick McCully was a double winner (high jump and low hurdles) and a second in the shot put. Tim Nee was a double winner as well with victories in the high jump and 440. Single victors included Frank DePiano (shot), Steve Winchell (discus), Ron Poirier (pole vault), Peter Brown (javelin), Robert Sferrazza (100), Steve Coville (880) and Doug Spring (two mile). Seconds were picked up by Gordie Fitch (long jump, 100), freshman Rich MacDonald (vault), Coville (javelin), McCully (shot), Ian MacInnis (mile). Thirds went to Don Capone (triple jump, high and low hurdles), Tony Gravalles (440), Keith Roueche (880) and Mark Blaisdell (mile).

The Dracut win came on the strength of double wins by Roueche (long and triple jumps) and McCully (high and low hurdles) as well as a super 22.6 effort in the 220 by Nee. DePiano (shot), Winchell (discus), Paul Reed (pole vault), Brown (javelin), Sferrazza (100), Coville (880), MacInnis (mile) and Spring (2 mile) earned firsts, while seconds went to Fitch (long jump), DePiano (discus), Poirier (vault), Steve Napolitano (shot), Tony Gravalles (440), Blaisdell (880), and Pete McNaughton (2 mile) and thirds to Coville (javelin), Nee (high jump) and Fitch (100) rounded out the scoring.

Last year at this time Coach Kelley's crew nipped powerhouse Andover as the Wilby a single point, this time the tables were turned as the Wildcats were nipped 73 - 72 on Monday. It was Wilmington's first loss in a long time going back to cross country in September.

(see story next week)

CHEERING ON: As he crossed the last hurdle Rick McCully turned to his teammate Don Capone and shouted "Come on Don!" McCully placed first and Capone placed third in the high hurdles.

Squirt A (2-0-0): The Wilmington Squirt A's chalked up their second straight victory by defeating Haverhill 4 - 1. Haverhill tallied first at 6:22 of period one, but Ed Harding tied the score at 9:59 of period one on an unassisted effort.

The score remained tied through the middle of the third frame as goalie Ed Laquidara stopped Haverhill's scorers cold with some outstanding net-minding. John Robson broke the game open in the third stanza as he scored his first at 5:07 from Don Allard and Jerry O'Reilly and his second at 8:42 unassisted.

Jim Newhouse finished the scoring at 9:34 with assists going to John Robson and Jerry O'Reilly. The defensive unit exhibited another strong effort as they kept Haverhill's skaters at bay until Wilmington's offense could get moving. The team faces South Boston next week in the first of their two show down contests.

Pee Wee B's (2-0-0): Frank Neward's sharp looking Wildcats jumped Reading 4 - 2. The first period saw Jeff Stouffer gain the first goal, assisted by Frankie Newark.

With one second left Frankie Newark connected, assisted by Bobby Magliozzi. The second period saw Bobby Williams lift one in assisted by Richie McHugh and Dave Elliott. Bewildered Reading then scored their first goal.

The third period saw Jeff Stouffer respond again, assisted by Bobby Magliozzi. Then Reading scored again with only 59 seconds left. Phil Pallozzitti, Bill Redler, and all four defensemen, McNeil, Cahill, Johnson and Greenberg were credited with superb playing. Next - South Boston.

Bantam B: On Sunday at the Wilmington Youth Ice Arena, Coach Gunn's Bantam B's tried unsuccessfully to defeat Haverhill in their second game of the spring season.

The final score was Haverhill, four. Wilmington two with Bobby DiSciullo leading off in the first period assisted by Mark Lanni. Wilmington's second tally came off the stick of Bobby Greenberg with Richie Robinson and Jimmy Burns to help out.

Wilmington had several other fine scoring attempts which went unrewarded.

The Bantam B's will host Manchester this Sunday at 5:10 p.m.

Pee Wee A (1-1-0): In their opener of the spring season, the Pee Wee A's took on Medford and gave an excellent performance, coming up with a 4 - 3 win.

Rick Zambarnardi scored the first goal assisted by Keith Ford at 10:11 of period one. Medford tied it five minutes later.

In the second stanza, Don Foley put the A's out in front to stay assisted by Keith Ford and Rick Zambarnardi. Period three saw the A's score twice. Keith Ford assisted by Don Foley and Rick Zambarnardi and Shawn O'Donoghue assisted by Don Foley and Keith Ford.

Medford did add two more goals the last, in five second left in the game as they pulled their goalie. Everybody played an excellent game, particularly Jeff Lux who had 28 shots and made a number of fine saves.

In their second game the A's took on Wenham and lost 8 - 2. Wenham scored only five seconds into period one. Keith Ford tied it up six minutes later on a deflected shot from Rick Zambarnardi and Kevin MacDonald.

Wenham added two more goals and led 4 - 1 at the end of period one. Wenham added two more in each period to lead 8 - 1 before Don Foley scored in a scramble in the crease with 23 seconds left in the game. The A's outshot Wenham 22 - 17.

The next game will be played Wednesday, May 14 at 6:40 p.m. against Charlestown.

FIRST LEG: Of the mile.

Tennis club opens season

The Wilmington Tennis Club kicked off the 1975 outdoor season last weekend with a social mixer minitournament at the Avco courts.

fifty-two members played first and second round matches under ideal weather conditions on Saturday. However, rain washed out Sunday's quarter, semi and final rounds.

The matches will be played during the week, with the finals tentatively scheduled for Sunday. All members who are still in contention for the social mixer tournament will be contacted by a committee member during the week.

The club ladder will open on Monday, May 12, with competition scheduled for all members in both singles and doubles ladder play. Competitions will run through the summer, and will conclude in September.

The 1975 ladders have been prepared by the coordinators, and will be released to all club members during the coming week.

Kiwanians honor Francis Kelley

Francis P. Kelley, Wilmington High School teacher and coach of the track team was honored, Monday night, by the Kiwanis Club. He was the guest, at their weekly Monday supper meeting.

Kelley was told that he personifies the objectives of Kiwanis. Cited was his dedication to teaching, and instilling better understanding and interest in the lives of teenagers, for their betterment in life.

Secondly was his dedication to sports, particularly track, which adds to the life, personal accomplishment and satisfaction of many youths who otherwise might be lost by the wayside.

Thirdly he was to be commended for his availability to all kinds of youth activities in the school year, which make the young people more aware of their varied abilities, and the purposes and contributions they can make as a vital part of the community.

Trophies to be awarded

Those coaches and players in the Wilmington Recreation Basketball League and Invitational Tournament who have not yet received their trophies may do so this Saturday, May 10.

Trophies may be picked up in the Recreation Office in the former Mildred Rogers School at Silver Lake, next to the town beach.

Winchester Hospital health fair

In celebration of National Hospital Week, May 11-17 with this year's theme "a constant concern for a healthy community," Winchester Hospital will sponsor a health fair in the Winchester Town Hall on Monday, May 12 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Free testing will be conducted on high blood pressure, diabetes, vision, hearing and lung capacity. A special program on breast self-examination will be conducted by four members of the hospital's medical staff with demonstrations and film instruction.

Information will also be given to the public on the medic-alert program, the New England Eye Bank and on expectant parents' classes.

Members of the Winchester Police and Fire departments will demonstrate the emergency medical training they have received through a special program developed by the hospital.

Assistance in planning the fair and providing the staff to perform the tests will be provided by the Friends, Winton Club, EnKa Society, Winchester Visiting Nurse Association, Winchester Police and Fire Departments, Winchester Jaycee-ettes, and the New England Eye Bank.

Debbie Guzlef performed at New England Rehab

Debbie Guzlef of Clark Street, a student at Wilmington High School and a state champion baton twirler entertained patients at New England Rehabilitation Hospital on Sunday, April 27.

The Lowell Musicana, comprising some sixty people ranging in age from teen-agers to golden agers presented the two-hour variety show under the direction of Walter Dunfee of Lowell, who organized the volunteer group approximately 21 years ago.

This was a repeat performance for the group, having been called back by popular demand. The same group entertained at the hospital just before Christmas last year.

HIGH WIRE ACT: Gordon Richburg put the final touches on the Kiwanis banner stretched over Church St. Saturday morning. While the club president did his act Dave Gagnon stood at the ready lest the ladder should fall. The horse show will benefit the Kiwanis charities.

Selectmen

bylaws. This board has imposed conditions that approximate the density, construction and other standards of other provisions of the zoning and other regulations of the town. There is no assurance that the housing appeals committee, to which petitioner has a right to appeal if the permit were denied or the imposed conditions were uneconomic, would impose any restrictions or conditions as strict as those contained herein.

8. Any arguments which were presented at the hearing of February 25, 1975, or at the continued hearing of March 25, 1975, that are not specifically discussed herein are deemed irrelevant under the statute governing our consideration of this case.

9. This board was forcefully impressed with the intensity of the feelings of many of the speakers. Considering the provisions of chapter 774, most of the arguments would be more appropriate if addressed to the legislature, the town meeting and the courts. The statute has caused us to concern ourselves with the health and safety of the occupants, the townspeople, and render a decision within 40 days from the close of the hearing....

Selectmen

Wilmington's Selectmen chose to include a wide scope of town officials and others, in their suit against the board of appeals. The planning board was mentioned as being asked to join, and there was discussion about getting the thousand or more signatories of the petition against Candlewood Village to join in the suit against the board of appeals.

Attorney Alan Altman, after he was directed to prepare the suit noted that in the plans there were not only low and moderate income housing, but also "market" housing. He and Selectman Gillis discussed this briefly, and Gillis thought that this was a violation of the zoning code, in that Chapter 774 was for low and moderate income only.

This was the tactic upon which, apparently, the suit will be based, in that the Tambone Corporation is violating the zoning bylaw by being in excess of the statute.

Altman warned the selectmen that in any case the developer (Tambone Corporation of Reading) could go directly to the Massachusetts Housing Committee with an appeal.

The Housing Committee is a part of the Department of Community Affairs, to whom appeals may be made by developers, such as Tambone, if the local appeals board makes conditions too difficult.

Altman was asked what would happen if the town went to the Superior Court at the same time that Tambone should go to the Housing Committee. He did not offer an answer.

Altman said, in the preparation of the suit, he preferred to use the name of each member of the board of selectmen, of each member of the planning board, and of each member of the finance committee, plus any individual who feels he is aggrieved, and any person who had signed the petition.

The task of preparation, he said, would be monumental. The selectmen then told him to use the services of Attorney Robert Cohen, who has already been employed as a special counsel in Chapter 774 matters. Altman said he believed the two attorneys could be ready within the twenty day period which is allowed after a decision has been made.

As he defined his role, he was to allege that the board of appeals had exceeded its authority in allowing the construction of apartments which were not low and moderate income housing, a contradiction of the zoning bylaws.

Selectman Cairra, at this point, asked if the board might be washing money down the drain. "Is it not in the statute that the board of appeals has the final authority?"

Altman said that it would not be useful to attack the "board issues" such as those that were decided in the Hanover Case; by the Superior Court, and not to deal in generalities, but rather in specifics.

The town manager joined in with an observation about the "density" of the "market" apartments that were being planned - 10 building units to the acre. Selectman Boylen joined him - "It's a charade."

Altman: We don't know. There are only two cases. You win some and lose some.

Banda: That's the truth.

Caira: If we win, could he (Tambone) go to the Housing Committee?

Altman: We might have two cases instead of one.

Selectman Banda spoke up to say "use my name." "people came in with a petition" - "file and see what happens - we can't wait."

Boylen: "This is not just low and moderate income housing. I think any taxpayer would be aggrieved by this."

He discussed the fact that some of the land is being given to the town. He wasn't happy about it. Anytime there is a proposal to give land, he said, the conservation commission is smiling and happy, but often there was a gimmick, in that someone was just getting out of the paying of taxes. He felt that this was such a case.

Noting that the town had many medium sized homes on medium sized lots, he declared: "One thing this town offers is a chance to live under no more density."

Costs

idea were to be adopted there would be more single bedroom apartments and fewer three and four bedroom apartments, thus reducing the number of school children from the apartment housing.

He also had an idea that the bylaws could be so written that apartment housing could be only off primary or secondary streets - streets that are fifty feet wide, as a limiting factor and control of housing.

Joel Gardiner, the only attorney on the planning board, was more cautious. It might be a nice thing to do, he said, but "Is that what the planning board does - write nice letters?"

Harding replied by discussing the board of appeals decision, and praising it.

"They had to a definitive plan (fubak okabm ed.) based on information for a preliminary plan. I think they had a very difficult decision."

Chairman Bill Hooper, Harding and Maglio voted in favor of sending the letter, and Gardiner and Bill Hanlon against.

Loam removal

Mr. Harding reported that there was loam removal going on, from the new housing project off Park Street. He didn't believe it had been authorized by any Wilmington board.

He was at the Woburn Street School at 11:30 last Saturday morning, he said, picking up children to take home, when a large truck, a ten wheeler, with the name of a Billerica firm on it passed. It was loaded with loam.

So Harding went down to the project, formerly the Anderson farm. A large ten wheeler was being loaded, - it took fifteen minutes to load. Harding sat in his car and watched, and then, when the truck started, he followed it to Burlington, that is until about noon. He took the number of the license plate.

"In the past" Harding said, "developments have been given permits to remove loam and have ended up with no loam." "This should be stopped now. I think Dick Duggan of the finance committee worried about financing the suit. The finance committee, he said, has a duty to find out more about the projected attack, and the costs. How far will the $5000 advanced for the special counsel go?

Boylen: I am prepared to call a special town meeting if we can't get funds. He estimated the town would be losing $200,000 a year "or better."

Duggan: I am thinking of costs, in the next year.

Banda: We won't know until three, four, five months from now. Maybe we should call a special town meeting then.

It was then that Mrs. McKie entered the meeting room. The town manager was talking about "using the names" of all those who had signed the petition against Candlewood Village. Mrs. McKie asked if the suit "had to have the names of abutments." Altman said yes - if they feel they are an aggrieved party.

Mrs. McKie, it turned out, had a copy of the petition which had been presented. She would be happy to see what abutments had signed.

The motion

The unanimous vote of the selectmen was on a motion which read:

"That the board of selectmen, acting as a board, and each member, acting as a town official, vote to authorize the town counsel and the Special Counsel, Richard Cohen, to commence an appeal in the Superior Court contesting a decision of, and the issuance of a comprehensive permit by the board of appeals in the Town of Wilmington, and to do any other acts necessary and incidental and to pursue any other litigation."

Planning Board

loopholes have to be plugged."

The board voted to send a letter to the town manager on the subject.

Glen Acres subdivision

The planning board and Attorney Simon Cutter discussed for one and a quarter hours the Glen Acres development off Glen Road. Mr. Cutter is the attorney for the mortgagee in a bankruptcy case now pending.

The basis of the discussion was a "punch list" prepared by the town engineer for thirty unfinished items in the project - lights, drains, grading, roads, and the pond which is near the Wildcat Railroad, to name some.

There is a bond of $42,000 made out to the town, or completion of items.

One guess was that there was over $100,000 in work to be done. Mr. Cutter told the planning board that, because this is a bankruptcy case, the town may not own that bond.

Some of the items in the "punch list" were said to have been done. Some items were said to be for houselots that were not actually a part of the Glen Acres subdivision.

Some more items concerned Washington Avenue, which the planning board had voted to be included in the subdivision plans, but to which the Wilmington selectmen are opposed.

Mr. Cutter was discussing, in part, the possibility that he could contract to have work done at rates cheaper than were figured by the town engineer.

Roberts Estate

Attorney William Geary of Lowell appeared to discuss houselot plans on Burlington Avenue, part of the former Roberts estate. He had plans for two lots, which had been discussed the week before by the board of appeals. Mr. Geary was seeking advice on how to improve the layout of the lots, so that they would conform to town regulations.

Part of the difficulty came from the fact that there is 60 acres of land in back, for later development, and that the planning board insists that there be proper access to the back land.

Art exhibit at Shawsheen Tech

Art work by Wilmington's North and West Intermediate and High School students will be exhibited at Shawsheen Tech, 100 Cook Street, Billerica, beginning today.

This exhibit provides an opportunity for Wilmington art students, as well as those of Billerica, Bedford, Burlington and Tewksbury, to bring public attention to their art work, and to view the creative efforts of other students and school systems.

The exhibit will include examples in a variety of two and three dimensional media and will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday, May 8, and Friday, May 9. The hours on Saturday, May 10, are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

There will be no school approved sleep-in

There are rumors going around Wilmington that there is to be a sleep-in, approved by the school department for senior class members, sometime in the near future.

The following day, by some logic, will be a day that the seniors do not need to attend school. Or so some parents are being told.

Dr. George Eisenberg, high school principal, first learned of the proposed sleep-in, and the next day off just this week. It seems he is the last person to hear of it.

There will be no school approved sleep-in, Eisenberg told the Town Crier. Nor will there be a school approved day off, which the students call a "Skip Day."

Bricklayers apprentices

LETTER

Dear Mr. Neilson:

This is the week the Federal Government gives us a tax refund. In honor of the occasion I submit the fractured verse below. It can be sung to the tune of the song 7½ Cents from the musical Pajama Game after the proper apologies to the original authors. Richard Adler and Jerry Ross.

We can sing it at town meeting.

The Ballard of the Budget

Uncle Jerry's tax cut,
Doesn't mean a hell of a lot.
Uncle Jerry's tax cut,
Doesn't mean a thing.
For this old town has grabbed it up
Very neatly swallowed up.
Every single little cent
To which they could catch and cling.

They gobbled it up,
They gobbled it up,
With some simple little votes
They gobbled it up.

Only on year from today
Just one year from today
They'll be back again to do it.
Only one year from today.

Sooo...

Uncle Jerry's tax cut
Doesn't mean a hell of a lot
Uncle Jerry's tax cut,
Doesn't mean a thing.
For it's been gone a long, long time
Every nickle, every dime,
And in just a year,
You'll be saying "What a crime!"

Just sign your refund check over to the town folks, it might cover your increase in taxes!

Sincerely,
William D. MacKinnon, Jr.

5 tons of steel piece by piece

Officer Bobby Stewart was patrolling Main Street in Wilmington last Thursday morning (May 1) at about 3 a.m. Two men were walking by the side of the road. Something made Bobby stop and talk with the men.

Their truck was broken down, the said, and they were walking home. So far the story was straight, but when it came to answering questions about where the truck broke down, and why, there was something that aroused the questioning instinct of Bobby Stewart. He and Mike Celata, who is on of Wilmington's newer patrolmen asked the men to go back to the truck, which was parked in the yard of the railroad station.

The truck was in the yard, and one of the men owned it. It was broken down. The reason was that there were 214 pieces of steel, each weighing 50 pounds. Over five tons of railroad steel, the kind that is used to "tie" railroad tracks together.

The two men were taken to the police station and charged with stealing the steel from the Billerica yard of the Boston & Maine RR. Then Mike Celata was sent back to count the pieces of steel, so as to establish legal evidence of the crime. It was about five in the morning, and Mike wasn't happy about manhandling all that steel, all by himself.

so when a detective from the Boston & Maine police came along, and offered to help, Mike accepted gladly. Together they counted 214 pieces of steel, each weighing 50 pounds. It was quite a job.

the two men, who live in Saugus, were arraigned in Woburn Court that morning. The trial will be on May 15.

If Mike Celata is called to testify, he will be able to say there were 214 pieces, each weighing 50 pounds. He knows. He moved them.

Job hunting resources at Library

Since the job market is so tight, job hunters should be aware of the useful resources at the library. A number of manuals explain in detail how to write the best resumes.

The Standard Resume Guide by Allan Goldenthal explains what employers look for in job resumes.

Resumes That Get Jobs is also a useful manual.

Massachusetts Industrial Directory lists twenty major industries and the names and addresses of individual firms.

Directory of New England Manufacturers serves a similar function as the above for the six state region.

Arco Civil Service Test Tutor presents clear-cut study guides.

Effective Methods and Services in Job Hunting is for college graduates only, and is full of practical suggestions. It includes "The Plan," an informational service system. It offers prospective employers more ease and convenience than other systems, and almost ensures the resume of being one of the first considered for every applicable position.

Over 40 - Out of Work by Lou Albee covers all aspects of the unemployment problem thoroughly and gives you the understanding and direction to solve the problem.

Employment Opportunities for Men and Women After 60 by Juvenal Angel includes a fine chapter which directs readers to centers and agencies for senior citizens. There are chapters on opportunities for people, arranged by interest.

Professional Job Changin System by Robert Jameson is also of value to those presently unemployed. It lists major U.S. newspapers which carry advertisements for jobs, major employers in each state, major employment agencies countrywide

A GAS DRYER SAVES YOU WORK ... TIME ... MONEY!

People have been buying gas dryers for years—and with good reason too. They save walking, lugging, lifting . . . they save time and best of all, Gas Dryers save money! Economical Gas dryers such as Speed Queen, Maytag or Whirlpool are faster—they start instantly with no warm-up wait. Safe too even for delicate fabrics—a Gas dryer blows away moisture instead of baking things dry. Visit the showroom at the Lowell Gas Co. — see why more people are switching to Gas dryers.

Camp Fire Girls meet High School Science

It was very nice, last Friday at Shawsheen Technical High School. A supper, put on by the Culinary Arts Department, for about 175 Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds, and their dads - a Father - Daughter Banquet. There were ladies from the Camp Fire organization too, so that the Culinary Arts Department was serving about 400 people, - cafeteria style, an Italian supper with pasta and meat balls.

One of the young ladies in the Culinary Arts Department was Susan Sullivan of Thurston Avenue. It's always nice to see and meet friends.

The little Blue Birds - well, they contrasted with their dads, who of course were big and husky. The Blue Birds, in blue uniforms, spindly legs, and quiet mein. They looked so cute, standing in line, awaiting their turn at supper.

The supper over, there were a few short speeches, and some awards. Then everyone went to the little theatre, in the Shawsheen Tech building.

The Wilmington High School Science Club was putting on a Magic Spectacular Show. That's something well worth seeing - the exuberant group of high school youngsters in a show which is a mixture of Sesame Street and the good old Hokey Pokey Magic Show.

The girls were down in front and their dads further back. They were good little girls, nice and quiet, until after about fifteen minutes when Bill Cunningham wandered down through the stairway. Bill had a silly hat, and a silly look, and he was quite evidently the village clown. Above his head, tethered by a string, was a balloon, not a round one, but a long one that wandered from left to right, and back and forth. Bill innocently, almost rapidly watched the high schoolers and their magic.

Behind Bill came another fellow, sort of leaping along. He was all in black. His face had been blackened too.

His name was Jerry Blum, and he was intently watching that balloon, as does a cat watch a mouse.

This was something that little girls could recognize. One hundred seventy-five little throats

JOAN SULLIVAN: Won an award for selling the most candy in the Camp Fire Girls. The award comes from Joan Kulhavik of Somerville, District Director.

BLUEBIRDS: Seated quietly, in the theatre. But they weren't quiet when Billy Cunningham showed up!

JAYNE JACKSON: With all those beads, was Jewel Jayne.

emitted a scream, simultaneously. One hundred seventy-five girls were warning Billy Cunningham, whose stage name was Chester Hunnybuckle, that the villain was after him, and that Jerry Blum, alias Al Buggsmoo was about to destroy that balloon.

Billy Cunningham innocently wandered off-stage, his balloon safe and intact, and 175 throats stopped screaming.

The science show continued. The little Blue Birds and their Campfire Friends saw exhibitions of fire eating, and burning hands, and glass glue. It was interesting. Jewel Jayne had her tricks with hot jewels, Chris Emery had her tricks with sand castles.

Then Billy Cunningham and Jerry Blum wandered onstage again. Jerry was still trying to get that balloon, and 175 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls were screaming. Great fun!

Then eight high schools doing a dance. It wasn't the Follies Bergere, and it wasn't from the Goad Coast, but it was a kick dance, with all the girls in multi-colored skirts.

This was something a Camp Fire Girl could recognize. There were more than a few Camp Fire Girls who joined that line, in volunteer kicking.

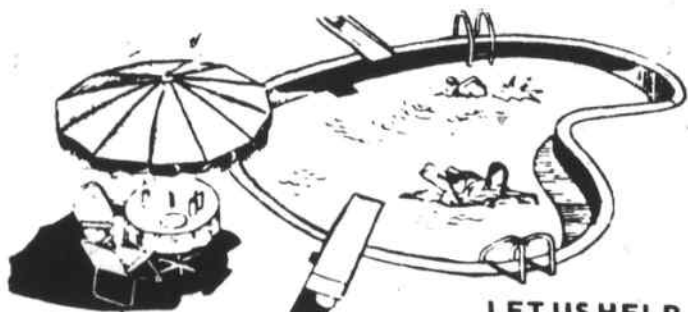

Great fun! Meanwhile the show continued. There was Mark Lies having a Fire Explosion, and Carolyn Landry making with a volcano.

The show was over - no - one more act. Billy Cunningham came back on the stage, still with his balloon. One hundred seventy-five screams greeted him, and warned that Jerry Blum wasn't very far behind.

Jerry achieved his dastardly purpose. He put a fire up to that balloon, and it burned up. One hundred seventy-five young ladies sort of groaned. They were so sorry for Billy Cunningham.

The show was over. And, just in case anyone should get the idea that playing with fire is dangerous, the Wilmington High School Science Club has two persons, always present, as Safety Officers. That's the way that show is run.
